

YOUNG FOUNDATION INTERNSHIP: WINTER 2013

Project name: SIE

SIE is an initiative working to connect a range of players (politicians, academics, grassroots activists and entrepreneurs) who are creating a wide range of social benefit across sectors and areas of need.

This internship is a chance to plug into the most active, on-going element of the initiative—our online work. Day to day activities will include researching interesting organizations and news items to post on www.socialinnovationeurope.eu, drafting interviews, managing users, sourcing images, and publicizing positive social actions through our social media networks.

Working as an intern with the SIE initiative could be an excellent chance to hone your skills in online publishing, website administration, web journalism, or social media marketing. You'll learn a lot in a short space of time. If you're confident, and motivated by learning about social innovation practice all over the world, what better place to begin than at the heart of an international network?
